WELLNESS COUNCIL OF INDIANA

ABOUT US

Mission Statement

The Wellness Council of Indiana promotes worksite wellness programs that help Indiana employers positively impact medical expenses and utilization rates, employee recruitment and retention, absenteeism, productivity and create a positive company image. Wellness encourages healthy employees, healthy families, and healthy communities.

Organization

The Wellness Council of Indiana is a 501(c)(3) organization and the only statewide not-for-profit specifically dedicated to worksite wellness in Indiana. Organized as a volunteer-based association in 1988 and acquired by the Indiana Chamber of Commerce in 2011, the Wellness Council of Indiana has grown to be one of the largest state councils in the United States today. As a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Indiana Chamber, the Wellness Council has seen tremendous growth in both membership and revenue, and has streamlined the services offered to members. We have helped hundreds of member organizations save time and avoid costly miscalculations when building consistent and comprehensive workplace wellness initiatives.

Membership Demographics

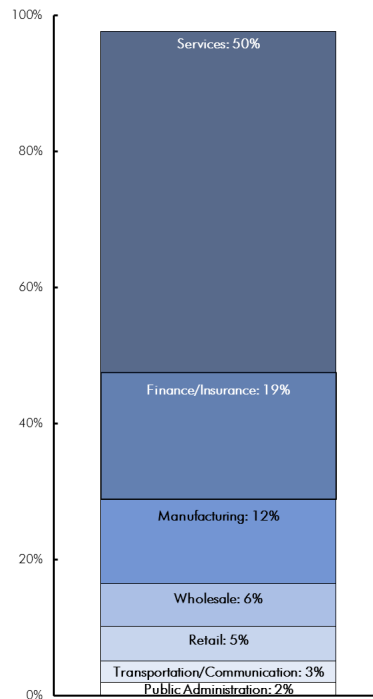

Over 200 member companies from 52 counties across Indiana, representing over 150,000 employees.
